

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

* Acting for the regular representative.

The terms for which the representatives of Amherst College, Boston University, Brown University and Dartmouth College had been elected expired at the close of the annual meeting, and Professors Cowles, Lindsay, Davis and Lord have been re-elected by their respective faculties for an additional period of three years. The names of the officers and of the members of the Board for the year 1909-10 can be found on the page preceding this report.

The delegate representing the Board on the National Conference Committee on Standards of Colleges and Secondary Schools reported to the Board that there had been no meeting of the Committee during the year but that a meeting would probably be held within a few weeks. The Secretary was chosen delegate for the ensuing year.

The reports of the colleges to the Board, which have been the basis of all action of the Board in respect to the applications of the schools for approval, have been unsatisfactory in the past, in that, although they have shown the number admitted on certificate and by examination and also the number who were unsatisfactory in each subject, they have not shown the number who were enrolled in each subject during the first semester. Since in mathematics and English nearly every one admitted pursued the subject in college, the per cent. of failures showed the character of the preparation. In every other subject only a part, ranging from a very small per cent, in history to a reasonably large per cent. in Latin, continued the subject in college, and therefore the reports did not give the requisite information for an intelligent judgment as to the preparation. Last year a committee was appointed to consider the character of the reports from the colleges. As a consequence of its report the Board has adopted the following rules:

The colleges shall report (a) the number received in each subject on certificate from each school; (b) the number of such persons who continued the subject during the first semester; (c) the number in each subject so received whose preparation is considered unsatisfactory.

The colleges shall also make these three reports in each subject for each person admitted by examination.

On October 8th, 1904, the Executive Committee, at the request of the Board, had adopted the following rule: "That those who have failed without reasonable excuse to meet the requirements of the college in any subject during the first term or semester of the first college year, shall be reported as unsatisfactory in that subject."

Again this year, the Board has carefully discussed its relations to schools which have never been rejected by it and which desire its approval. While recognizing the difficulties which a new school meets when seeking approval, the Board has not been able to find any other solution of the question than to require, as at present, that the school shall send by examination to colleges represented on the Board, at least two persons within three years.

During the year ending with the annual meeting in May, 1909, twenty-five (25) schools, which had been previously rejected by the Board, again applied for approval. Of these, four (4) were ineligible by rule V, four (4) were ineligible by rule VI, two (2) were refused on account of their poor record, and fourteen (14) were placed on the trial list for one year. The application of one school was laid on the table because it had no pupil ready to send this year. Twenty-three (23) schools applied for the first time for the approval of the Board. Of these, the application of one (1) was laid on the table, thirteen (13) were ineligible by rule VI, and nine (9) were placed on the trial list for one year. Of the forty-two (42) schools on the trial list for last year which had applied for the renewal of the certificate privilege, three (3) were refused on account of their poor record, three (3) were refused because they had sent none on certificate to colleges represented on the Board and had no one ready to send, ten (10) were continued on the trial list and twenty-six (26) were fully approved; twenty-five (25) for three years and one (1) for two years, from January 1, 1909. All of the twenty-seven (27) schools on the approved list whose approval expired December 31st, 1908, had requested that their certificate privilege might be extended for a further period of three years. The request was granted in the case of twenty (20), while in the case of six (6) schools, the approval of the Board was extended until January 1st, 1910. The remaining school was dropped from the list because of its poor record. Four (4) schools to which warning notices had been sent for one or two years, continuing their poor records, were dropped from the list of approved schools, although the period for which they had been approved had not yet expired. This was done in accordance with the statement appended to the notice of their approval which reads as follows:

"The Board shall have the power of withdrawing approval from a school and from such a school certificates shall not afterward be accepted until it shall again have been approved by the Board."

Of the one hundred and seventy-seven (177) schools which had been approved until January 1st, 1910, sixty-six (66) applied for the extension of the certificate privilege for another period of three years, and one (1) for two years in accordance with rule XI. The requests were granted in the case of fifty-five (55) schools, and the request was laid on the table until next year in the case of the twelve (12) remaining schools. The latter action was taken in most cases because the number received during the last two years was too small or the records were too doubtful to warrant the renewal of the certificate privilege by the Board. This will cause no serious hardship to the schools as in no case does the certificate privilege expire before January 1st, 1910. The opportunity granted under rule XI of extending the certificate privilege for three years in advance of its expiration, has evidently been appreciated, as sixty-seven (67) schools this year instead of only five (5) schools last year, availed themselves of it.

At the present time there are thirty-four (34) schools on the trial list, and two hundred and eighty-six (286) on the fully approved list, or three hundred and twenty (320) in all. A complete list of these schools, arranged alphabetically according to location, is appended to this report.

The Secretary was requested to send a warning notice to thirty-seven (37) schools, of which twenty-five (25) received a notice of the first form and twelve (12) one of the second form. A warning notice of the second form is intended simply to call the attention of the principal to the record of the school and is sent when the failures in two or more subjects are one-fourth as many as there are certificates. A warning notice of the first form indicates that the Board is dissatisfied with the record of the school and that the record must be improved or the certificate privilege may be withdrawn. It is sent to such schools as fail to improve their record after the receipt of a warning of the second form and to schools whose record for the previous year is considered very unsatisfactory. Twenty-five (25) of the notices sent this year called attention to failures in mathematics, fifteen (15) in English, twelve (12) in German, fourteen (14) in French, nine (9) in Latin, four (4) in history, two (2) in Greek, two (2) in chemistry and one (1) in physics. It will be seen that in comparison with last year, the total number of warnings sent is one-third less, and, while the order of the subjects arranged according to the number of notices, is practically the same, the number of notices in the more prominent subjects is much reduced.

Of the three hundred and eight (308) schools on the approved list last year, thirty-three (33), or 10.7 per cent. of the whole number, sent no pupil on certificate to a college represented on the Board.

A summary of the reports received from the colleges concerning the schools for the past six years is given in the following table:

* The last year before the formation of the approved list.

The per cent. of failures among those who enter on certificate continues much lower than among those who enter on examination. During the past year this was true in each subject except German, where the number of failures among those admitted by examination was only one-third of that of one year ago. For the sixth year mathematics leads in the per cent. of failures. In three colleges the failures in this subject equal or exceed twenty per cent., and in only two colleges are they less than five per cent. The per cent. of failures differs very widely in different subjects as well as in different colleges. The following table shows the per cent. of failures in the different colleges in each subject. Under each subject the colleges are arranged according to the per cent. of failures in that subject, so that a college which may be first in one subject may be near the end in another.

* No one admitted in this subject.

This year the total number admitted on certificate in the six subjects, counting each subject as a separate admission, was four thousand, nine hundred and sixty-seven* (4,967) and the number who failed the first term was three hundred and thirty-six (336) or 6.8 per cent., or 1.1 per cent. less than last year. In no subject was the per cent. of failures greater this year than it was last year.

The comparison between schools of different sizes in respect to failures, is continued in this report. As before, the schools are divided into three classes, the first containing all those which sent at least ten students on certificate in some one subject; the second containing those which did not send more than nine in any subject, but did send as many as three in some one subject; and the third containing those which did not send even three students in any subject. The per cent. of failures in each class for each year is shown in the following table:

	English			Latin			Greek
	1906	1907	1908	1906	1907	1908	1906	1907	1908
Class I	8.6	6.0	5.8	2.7	2.5	2.9	2.2	3.0	0.8
Class II	7.7	8.6	9.1	4.2	4.1	4.8	3.5	0.8	1.8
Class III	11.0	9.5	4.9	6.0	6.5	0.8	2.8	10.0	2.9

	French			German			Mathematics
	1906	1907	1908	1906	1907	1908	1906	1907	1908
Class I	8.0	5.1	4.0	2.8	6.1	5.7	13.7	12.8	13.1
Class II	4.2	8.0	4.3	1.7	9.0	7.1	11.8	15.1	11.8
Class III	4.7	6.0	6.5	6.9	9.4	6.0	19.9	16.1	8.4

For the period considered, there is apparently no connection between the size of the school and the number of failures. This year in three subjects class I had the smallest per cent. Of the thirty (30) schools in class I, four (4), or 13.3 per cent., had clean records in all the subjects mentioned above; of the one hundred and thirty-two (132) schools in class II, fifty-seven (57), or 43.2 per cent., had clean records, and of the one hundred and twenty (120) schools in class III, ninety-four (94), or 78.3 per cent., had clean records. The corresponding per cents. for last year were 7.4, 35.9, and 65.6. This shows a gain in each class.

The assessment per pupil, admitted on certificate from New England schools, was sixty-five cents, the same as last year. The total amount received from this source was $837.20, one assessment for $58.50 not having been received. The total amount of the assessment was $895.70, or $85.80 more than last year. The amount on hand, including the assessment due, at the end of the financial year, was $1,066.76, or $161.31 more than last year. This seems a large surplus, but it should be remembered that out of it must be paid, before the next assessment is due on January 1st, 1910, one year's salary of the Secretary-Treasurer, $500, the expenses of the annual meeting, about $90, the printing of the annual report and blanks, and other miscellaneous items, which will probably reduce the amount below $200. The number of pupils from New England schools, the basis of the assessment, was one hundred and thirty (130) greater this year than last. If this increase is maintained next year, the assessment per pupil can safely be reduced to sixty cents. The amount expended during the year is as follows: For the salary of the Secretary-Treasurer for the last half of the financial year 1907-'08, and the first half of 1908-'09, $500; for the expenses of the annual meeting, $88.44; for the expenses of the Executive Committee, $19; for the expenses of the Committee on Schools, $7.10; for the expenses of a special committee appointed by the Board, $5.50; for typewriting the reports of the various committees, $11; for printing the annual report and the list of approved schools, $77.50; for postage and expressage, $35.30; for stationery and necessary blanks, $14.64; for dues for membership in the National Conference Committee, $10.

The report of the Treasurer, properly audited, is appended to this report.

The time and place of the annual meeting in May shall be fixed by the Executive Committee.

Not less than one week's notice shall be given of all meetings of the Board, regular and special.

V. There shall also be a Committee on Schools which shall consist of the Secretary, ex-officio, and two other members elected annually by the Board. XI. These By-Laws may be altered or amended by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at any meeting of the Board, regular or special.

RULES.

I. Applications for approval must be made to the Secretary upon blanks furnished by the Board and covering full statements concerning courses of study, teachers, and equipment.

II. Applications for approval shall be acted upon at the annual meeting in May; they must be received before April 1st in order to be approved for the next college year.

III. No school shall be placed upon the approved list unless it can prepare for college according to some one of the recognized plans of entering a college represented on this Board.

IV. No school will be approved unless it has shown by the record of its students already admitted to college its ability to give thorough preparation for college.

V. Schools which have been rejected because of the poor record of students sent to college on certificate, or which have been dropped from the list of approved schools for cause, must send within a period of three years at least three satisfactory students to one or more colleges represented on the Board before a new application for approval will be considered.

VI. Schools, other than those referred to in rule V, must send within a period of three years at least two satisfactory students to one or more colleges represented on the Board before an application for approval will be considered.

VII. A school shall be judged by the record of students who have entered college with the consent of its principal.

VIII. Any school in New England, eligible under rules V and VI, which has a candidate for admission for the ensuing year at some college represented on the Board, may be put on the trial list for one year, provided in its equipment, curriculum, staff of teachers, etc., it shall be satisfactory to the Board.

IX. No school shall be placed on the approved list for three years until it has been placed on the trial list for one year.

X. The application of a school for approval may be refused for one or more of the following reasons:

FIRST: Because the records of pupils sent to colleges represented on the Board are unsatisfactory.

SECOND: Because the curriculum of the school, the number and preparation of the teachers, or the equipment of the school is unsatisfactory.

THIRD: Because the school is not eligible under rules V and VI.

XI. The certificate privilege of a school, whether it be on the trial list or on the list of fully approved schools, shall not be continued beyond the period for which it was approved without a formal application on behalf of the school.

A school on the approved list may apply before April 1st of the last year of the period for which it was approved for a renewal of the certificate privilege for a further period of three years, and its application shall be considered at the annual meeting immediately following.

A school which has been on the approved list, and which does not apply for the renewal of the certificate privilege before April 1st of the calendar year following the expiration of the period for which it was approved, shall forfeit the privilege of renewal and its application for approval shall be treated in the same way as that of a school applying for the first time.

XII. A school which has been on the approved list, and which within the three years has not sent any pupil on certificate to a college represented on the Board, cannot have its certificate privilege renewed, and an application for approval shall be treated in the same way as if it came from a school which had never been approved.

XIII. The Board shall have the power of withdrawing approval from a school, and from such a school certificates shall not afterward be accepted until it shall have been approved again by the Board.

XIV. Certificates coming from any school approved by the Board and covering all the requirements for admission made by any college represented on the Board, shall be valid at such college, and certificates that do not so cover the entire requirements shall be treated by each college according to the rules which that college establishes for such certificates. No certificate from a school not approved by this Board shall be valid for admission at any co-operating college unless the school lies outside the jurisdiction of the Board.

XV. A general report of the work of pupils from approved schools for at least one-third of their first year in college shall be made to the Board, and such other reports as the Board may require, and all complaints of insufficient preparations shall be made to the Board with specifications as to subjects and individuals, but such complaints shall not interfere with reports to the schools about students entering from them.

XVI. No school shall be approved for more than three years. The approval of a school shall date from the first day of January of the year in which the approval is granted.

XVII. The list of schools approved by the Board shall be published in the annual report of the Board and in such other ways as the Board may direct.

LIST of Schools approved by the New England College Entrance Certificate Board. The Certificate privilege expires in each case with December 31st of the year printed in connection with the name of the School.
